Rebit™ Adds J&R and Micro Center to Expanding List of Partners

Backup Software and Appliance Options Available

LONGMONT, Colorado

June 1, 2009

Rebit Inc., the company dedicated to relieving the burden of backup for PC users, today announced that J&R Music & Computer World and Micro Center® are both offering Rebit software and appliances in their stores and online.

J&R Music & Computer World is carrying the full line of Rebit software products and selected appliances in its downtown New York City mega-store and online at www.jr.com/brand/rebit/.

Micro Center is carrying Rebit's single- and multi-PC software CDs in stores throughout the U.S. and online at www.microcenter.com.

"J&R Computer and Micro Center are both essential to Rebit's channel partner growth strategy," commented Charlene Murphy, executive vice president of sales and marketing, Rebit Inc. "We know their customers will be pleased with the ease and quality of Rebit's automatic and complete backup and recovery products."

Rebit is currently recruiting channel partners seeking to meet customer demand for easier-to-use and more competitive personal backup and recovery solutions. To drive greater market penetration and increased sales for its Reseller partners, Rebit is offering several exclusive programs, including dedicated sales, marketing and support teams, an online portal, a demonstration and evaluation program, enhanced marketing programs and product specials. To apply, go to www.rebit.com/partners.html.

Rebit backup and recovery is so simple, it actually gets used. Rebit's single and multi-PC software CDs allow a user to convert any USB drive to a Rebit appliance. Rebit provides complete and continuous backup of Windows-based computers. Unlike competing products that only copy data, Rebit also protects applications, individual settings, and the entire operating system. It even maintains multiple versions of files as they change. In the event of a complete hard drive failure, a virus, or just the accidental deletion of a file, Rebit provides painless recovery using the familiar "drag and drop" feature of Windows Explorer. Rebit software CDs and appliances are available to Resellers and end-users through ASI Computer Technologies
